

Remote Learning Update

Following feedback, next week teachers will start to post lessons on Google Classroom for the next day by 8pm the previous evening. This will allow parents/carers to be prepared in advance where this helps them to have a calmer start to the day. Please be aware that teachers may still make minor amendments to lessons before the start of the working day so children should not start completing the work until 9am.

Please find attached two guides relating to staying safe online which we hope you will find helpful.
